Regardless of what new opportunities technology brings, real estate investment will remain a staple asset class for its solid returns and reliability. Blockchain technology and DeFi have opened the door to a new class of savvy, eager global investors, and Realtors Coin strives to offer a real estate solution for the DeFi ecosystem.

Our vision is to go beyond simply providing real estate investment on the blockchain – we believe in creating a full fledged DeFi ecosystem allowing investors to use tokenized real estate shares as financial instruments in unique protocols. This gives investors more flexibility while still providing the stability of a real estate investment. The future of fractional real estate lives on the blockchain, and we are eager to be a part of it.
